Barossa's 'The Block' contestants get perfect score

Spence Thomson and Kerrie Charter, the Barossa's very own contestants on Channel 9's The Block, won 'kitchen week' on Sunday night with a perfect 30 out of 30 score.

Both Spence and Kerrie agreed it was lovely to win kitchen week and getting the 30/30 score (10 points from all three judges) was just an absolute bonus.

Spence explained that kitchen week was pretty hectic, which was no different to the previous weeks on The Block, but the team from Freedom Kitchens worked with the pair to make the install as smooth as possible.

The Barossa couple believe their kitchen did deserve the perfect score due to the layout and its functionality, colours and materials, appliances and overall design and feel.

"We were very surprised to get a perfect score, it was really great. It feels awesome to be able to do so well and do the Barossa proud," said Spence.

"We have enjoyed people coming up to us and saying they enjoy watching us on the show and are barracking for us and hoping we do well! That's a really nice feeling!"

The Block have now also released a new, limited edition of Monopoly called The Block Special Edition, which unlocks the chance for one lucky person to win one of the newly renovated Block Gatwick apartments.
