KITCHEN 1

KERRIE & SPENCE

REFINED DESIGN

Spence and Kerrie's winning 30/30 kitchen design integrates high-end appliances and works around a huge island bench in the stunning new Caesarstone Airy Concrete. Their vision was to make the vast space central to food preparation and entertaining, which it achieves perfectly. The beautiful Caesarstone Airy Concrete finish is versatile enough to complement the colours of the Burnished Wood cabinetry and stainless steel appliances. The central stack of joinery in the centre of the space allows for a seamless flow from the main kitchen to the huge butler's pantry. Their high open cabinetry across the side wall leaves plenty of space for styling and bringing personality to the room.

SPACIOUS ENTERTAINER

With a glamorous take on black and white, Hayden and Sara's kitchen is every inch the entertainer's dream. Featuring a butler's pantry hidden behind a wall of cabinetry in Supa Black, it's streamlined and stylish with a focus on surface space. Linking back to the rest of the apartment, the duo chose Caesarstone for the benches in Statuario Nuvo, complemented with mixed metallics for a sophisticated touch of added interest. Handles are finished with a brass detail while gunmetal tapware ties back to the sharply defined pantry shelving in Freedom Kitchens' new 2020 Black Alumin for a modern industrial look. To emphasise the kitchen's social space, the addition of a seating nook underneath the window makes the perfect spot for guests and family to relax while cooking up a storm.

IN THE DETAIL

The newlyweds chose Freedom Kitchens' cabinetry in Supa Black, Burnished Wood and Alaskan White Gloss, while the modern industrial-style shelving in their hidden (yet huge!) butler's pantry taps into the trend seen at this year's EuroCucina in Milan.
